

Delaware Board of Chiropractic
STATES WITH SUBSTANTIALLY SIMILAR CHIROPRACTIC LICENSURE REQUIREMENTS

When you are currently licensed in another state or jurisdiction, you apply for Delaware Chiropractic licensure by reciprocity and submit an official score report from NBCE as part of this application. The examination score requirement that you must meet depends on whether any state or jurisdiction where you are currently licensed has Chiropractic licensure requirements that are substantially similar to those in Delaware.

- If you are licensed in any state with substantially similar licensure requirements, your NCBE score transcript must show that you passed all the parts of the National Examination.
- If you are licensed only in states that do not have substantially similar licensure requirements to those in Delaware, the score requirement depends on when you graduated.

See Licensure by Reciprocity for more information. You must present proof of licensure in good standing in all states in which you are now, or have ever been, licensed.
